

zebis - Zentrum für ethische Bildung in den Streitkräften
Herrengraben 4
D-20459 Hamburg

Phone: +49 (0)40 - 67 08 59 - 55
Fax: +49 (0)40 - 67 08 59 - 30
E-mail: info@zebis.eu - www.zebis.eu

E-Journal „Ethics and Armed Forces“ – online now

First international e-journal about military ethics and security policy

„Anonymous Killing by new Technologies? The Soldier between Conscience and Machine“ – This is the cover topic which is featured on Sunday by the first international e-journal about current topics in military ethics and security policy.

In their essays, renowned scientific authors and personalities from all around the globe analyze controversial topics in modern security policy and, thus, unite academia, politics, armed forces and society.

The role of the soldier and the military is up for debate in societies all over the world. Asymmetric warfare, increasing robotization, armed drones or computer viruses cause debate in ethics and security policy. How do society and armed forces meet the challenges of new technologies? Or might we even need a new global comprehensive security culture?

As a church institution with an educational focus, zebis expands the reach of this debate to the middle of society. “Ethics and Armed Forces” – the new e-journal – is now available for free download on:

www.ethicsandarmedforces.com and www.ethikundmilitaer.de

“Ethics and Armed Forces” is issued twice a year in English and German with an ISSN number and is also accessible via the German National Library.